STAFF: Shaniqua Jackson (City Clerk), Bryan Jimenez (Legislative Director), and Garrett Schaaf (Program Director)

The Albany Community Police Review Board (CPRB) independently reviews and investigates complaints of alleged misconduct committed by officers of the City of Albany Police Department (APD). The CPRB is staffed by civilians, and it is not part of the APD.

The CPRB holds a monthly meeting open to the public on the second Thursday of every month. CPRB's monthly meetings provide a platform for community members to learn more about the Board's scope and priorities. Board members also use the meetings to review complaints, ask questions, and share concerns about police-community relations in Albany neighborhoods. Speaking at Board Meetings is open to all.

During board meetings, all members and guests are expected to show utmost courtesy towards each other, speakers, and City employees. Refrain from making rude or derogatory remarks reflecting negatively on the integrity of others or making abusive comments about their motives or personalities.

Public Comment is an opportunity for members of the public to address the Community Police Review Board on matters under their jurisdiction. Public comment is limited to three (3) minutes per person out of courtesy to all community members who wish to speak. Members of the public may submit written public comment on an upcoming agenda item by email to cprb@albany.gov.

Accommodations: CPRB provides accommodations upon request to persons with disabilities and individuals who with limited English proficiency who wish to speak on CPRB/APD matters. A request for accommodation must be made at least 48 hours in advance of a meeting. Please contact the CPRB's by email (cprb@albany.gov) to request an accommodation.
