

Anthony Gaddy is a Co-Founder and President/CEO of the Upstate New York Black Chamber of Commerce, the Upstate New York affiliate for U.S. Black Chambers. Founded in February 2019, The Upstate New York Black Chamber of Commerce is based in Albany and represents the Upstate New York region including the Capital Region, Central New York, Western New York, and the Hudson Valley Region on behalf of Black Businesses and Underserved Communities.

Raised in Albany, Anthony is a graduate of The Albany Academies and attended The University of Chicago, where he majored in Economics, before transferring to The University of Southern California, majoring in business. Anthony is very active in the community, having served as Vice-President of the Schenectady County Public Libraries, the NAACP and the Empire State Black Arts & Cultural Festival and several other organizations before relocating back to his native Albany. He currently serves as Vice-President of 4th Family, an Albany-based nonprofit that focuses on teaching STEM through sports, as well as a Member of the Berkshire Bank Advisory Council and Board of Directors for ALERT and the Hudson Valley Economic Development Corporation. Anthony was appointed to the City of Albany Industrial Development Agency and the City of Albany Capital Resource Corporation in 2020.