TITLE: A LOCAL LAW AMENDING ARTICLE III (SENIOR CITIZEN TAX EXEMPTION) OF CHAPTER 333 (TAXATION) OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF ALBANY IN RELATION TO THE FILING OF APPLICATION FOR EXEMPTION

PURPOSE: Technical correction

SUMMARY: The Enhanced STAR and the Senior Citizens exemption used to be filed for on the same application. Due to recent changes to the enhanced STAR program, Tax and Finance now checks the 1040 of owners who have registered and automatically grants the exemption to those who qualify. There have been numerous articles in the papers, segments on the news and other newsletters notifying property owners of the changes and they all highlight how once you have registered for STAR, there is no more paper work. This is resulting in individuals not realizing that the Senior Citizen exemption, although formerly applied for on the same form as the Enhanced STAR, is a separate exemption that still needs to have annual renewals, and as a result the City has seen an unbelievably low number of applications received halfway through the filing period (less than 20%).

JUSTIFICATION: This change to City Code § 333.37 will provide the City with additional time to reach out to property owners who have failed to submit their application thus far, and provided the community with further education regarding the need to file annually for the Senior Citizen exemption. Further, it will allow individuals who qualify more time to file for the exemption.

FISCAL IMPACT: TBD

EFFECTIVE DATE: Upon final passage, public hearing and filing with the Secretary of State.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 43.112.19

TITLE
AN ORDINANCE OF THE COMMON COUNCIL AUTHORIZING THE SALE TO ALBANY COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF A CITY OWNED VACANT LOT AT 142 LIVINGSTON AVENUE

GENERAL PURPOSE OF LEGISLATION
To allow the Albany County Historical Society to preserve the historical site. They will be paying the assessed value of the lot: $1500.00.

ACHA owns all of the property from the Ten Broeck Mansion up to the city’s lot. That consists of 134 Livingston (the parking lot), 136 Livingston (where a derelict house was demolished), and 138/140 Livingston (location of the present interpretive sign for the Ten Broeck burial vault).

ACHA Trustee Walter Wheeler, an architectural historian, has uncovered information showing that the former Ten Broeck burial vault likely overlapped the city’s lot at 142 Livingston, by about 9 feet.

At the Board of Trustees meeting on April 11, it was agreed that ACHA will commit to historical interpretation of the lot if we are able to purchase it. We propose to outline the actual vault location with cobblestones, with a walkway from the sidewalk to it. Inside the cobblestone outline could be gravel or wood chips. We could retain the existing interpretive sign (which is off to the side), and add a second sign with more info about the occupants of the vault, including Abraham and Elizabeth Ten Broeck, Philip Schuyler, and William Linn.

NECESSITY FOR LEGISLATION AND ANY CHANGE TO EXISTING LAW
Sale of city owned property requires Council approval.
